

IT Solution Providers

Harpoon Technologies, Inc. is a privately held IT (Information Technology) Consulting company located in St. Louis, Missouri. In business since 2004, we specialize in providing innovative solutions and professional services for St. Louis region customers in manufacturing, telecommunications, medical and transportation. Our client-centric philosophy and individual approach to each project has allowed us to help companies achieve long-term solutions addressing enterprise-wide IT requirements. Methodology, superior customer service, and industry knowledge position Harpoon Technologies as a recognized IT Consulting firm.

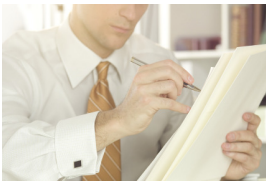

Consulting.

PROFESSIONAL IT SERVICES

IT Consulting

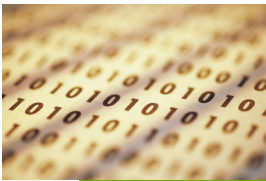

Our blend of technical skills, experience delivering solutions, and broad application of IT solutions make Harpoon Technologies a smart choice for your project. Our decades of technology experience are leveraged by our clients to help make the best decisions possible. We offer system analysis, infrastructure evaluations, and short or long-term guidance on IT projects.

IT Services

Project Accelerator

We go the extra step to guarantee project success. By leveraging on-site training and ongoing project support, clients can follow delivery schedules, reduce costs, and receive training that will allow them to use these skills regularly. As a member of your IT project's staff, our Project Accelerator consultant provides in-depth training and ongoing support for the duration of the project — services that other technology training companies do not offer.

Open Source.

Open Source Expert Services

Our software experts specialize in JBoss Enterprise Middleware and other Open Source technologies. Our partnership with JBoss and extensive Open Source experience deliver professional-grade solutions that are superior to closed-source technologies. Harpoon Technologies can lead, support, and educate clients who are integrating open source products so you can continue to be competitive.

IT Staffing.

Staff Augmentation

Staff augmentation services provide many benefits that remove the risks associated with hiring and allow clients to achieve measurable results quickly. Let Harpoon Technologies ensure you have the necessary resources available when you need them.